

Procedure followed in the Decision Making Process including Channels of Supervision and Accountability

The Governing Council decides the policy matters and management issues of CDC. As the Apex body, it directs, supervises and controls the affairs and funds of the CDC and carries out the objectives of CDC as set in the Memorandum of Associations. The Director General as Chief Executive Officer of CDC has delegated power for efficient functioning of the CDC.